Claim Equality In Overall Strength

U.S. Officials Admit Soviet Missile Lead

WASHINGTON (AP) — America's over-all military strength is "first rate, first position" although the Soviet Union will have moderately more missiles for a couple of years, says Secretary of Defense Thomas S. Gates Jr.

Gates said again Sunday he believes the United States is strong enough to prevent the Soviet Union from starting a war. He said the nation will begin catching up with the Soviet missile lead in 1962.

Expanding Missile Program

Gates said in a television interview "we are expanding our missile program, putting missiles on our bomber force and bringing in to operation Polaris submarines which we believe will offset any so-called missile gap, at least from the point of view of the validity of our deterrent."

Gen. Thomas D. White, Air Force chief of staff, spoke along similar lines in another television interview. He said the Soviets may be ahead in missiles but in the whole defense picture "I don't think we're behind at all."

White said the American missile and defense program is properly balanced and "will continue to give us the deterrent capability we desire."

Like Gates, White said he thought the United States was strong enough to prevent the Soviet Union from starting a war.

The statements by Gates and White were in sharp contrast to defense appraisals by several congressional Democrats. Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas said Friday the U.S.S.R. will have an enormous advantage in missile striking power in the near future.

Sen. Ralph Yarborough (D-Tex) said Sunday in a taped radio interview "We're woefully behind, we're frightfully behind and I think we ought to have a crash program to catch up."

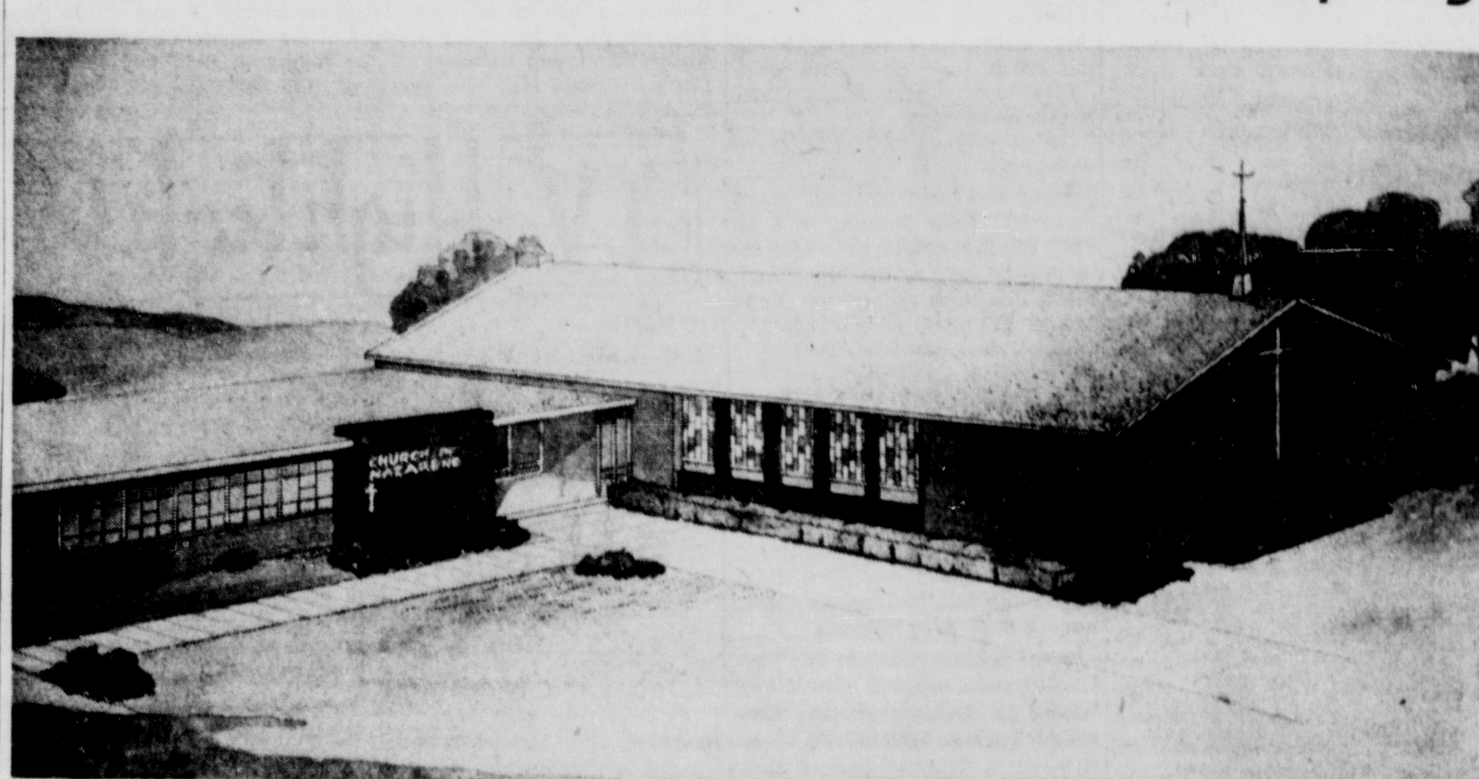

Gates' position got new backing from Sens. Kenneth B. Keating (R-NY), Jacob K. Javits (R-NY) and Karl Mundt (R-SD) and Rep. Leslie C. Arends (R-Ill.).

Nazarenes to Build New Edifice Here In Spring

How Nazarene Church Will Look, As Seen From Architect's Sketch

The Church of the Nazarene will break ground Sunday, April 3, for a new edifice to be erected on N. Ellsworth Ave. near W. 14th St.

Plans for the construction of the new sanctuary and an educational unit were presented to the congregation of the Salem church Sunday morning at a special building program service.

Estimated cost of the new church building is estimated at $135,000, it was announced by the pastor, the Rev. Arthur Brown Jr.

The new church site, acquired several years ago, extends back from N. Ellsworth Ave. to Buckeye Circle, a depth of 600 feet.

The new building, construction of which will be supervised by the Rev. Paul Miller of Akron, will seat 325 in the main auditorium, with an overflow area capacity of 108.

The sanctuary will measure 105 by 42 feet.

An educational wing will measure 75 by 48 feet and will house the church office, pastor's study and Sunday school classroom space.

The entire structure will be a single floor plan, except for a small excavated area for heating plant and storage. Robert Beatty of East Liverpool is the architect.

Rev. Brown said that cost of the building will be cut considerably through the use of donated labor and by the church acting as the general contractor. Accumulated building fund cash, plus three-year pledges and continued diversion of funds from the regular church income at the present rate should net $51,000 in the next three years, Rev. Brown said.

The church's present building on E. Second St. will be sold.

Insurgent Chief Gives Self Up; Other In Flight

Rebel Request for Strike Continuation Ignored by People

ALGIERS (AP)—The eight-day colonial revolt in Algiers collapsed today.

The insurgent irregulars, who resisted French President Charles de Gaulle's policy of self-determination for Algeria, surrendered their downtown barricades to an overwhelming display of army strength.

The Algiers corps commander, Gen. Jean Crepin, announced that insurgent leader Pierre Lagailarde was "in the hands of the authorities" and that insurgent political chieftain Joseph Ortiz was in flight.

The insurgent band itself will be sent into the fight against the nationalist Algerian rebels, Crepin said.

The fiery Lagailarde was given a military salute as he marched out of the barricades followed by a haggard band of some 300 irregular troops.

LaGailarde still wore his paratrooper uniform and carried a French flag as he led his small force from the stronghold.

A French paratrooper unit in front of the barricade stood at attention as the insurgents marched solemnly out. As he crossed the square, LaGailarde exchanged salutes with French officers commanding the troops before the barricades.

The crowd began to cheer and clap for Lagailarde, and there were cries of "Algerie Française!" (Algeria is French!)

Somebody started singing the Marseillaise and it was soon taken up by the crowd.

Three helicopters hovered overhead.

Lagailarde's men were a motley group. Some wore uniforms, some had only parts of uniforms. A few wore steel helmets and others wore paratrooper berets.

At 12:18 p.m. a big, blood-smeared French tricolor which had fluttered above the insurgent holdout was slowly pulled down. It had flown there since the bloody start of the revolt Jan. 24, when 27 persons were killed in street fighting.

The insurgents began helping to take down the barricades of paving stones and rubble which they had thrown up.

Dr. Bernard Lefevre, a right-wing political figure in Algiers, a result of nighttime negotiations between the insurgents and the army. He said the conditions asked by the insurgents were that the surrender go off with military honors and that no sanctions be taken against them.

Whether the army accepted these conditions fully was doubtful. De Gaulle, in demanding that the army bring the insurgents under control, had called the rebel leaders liars and conspirators, indicating they could expect little mercy from him.

If the letter of the law were followed, Lagailarde and Ortiz probably could be executed for treason, having violently challenged the authority of the state and waged armed warfare against it. But the insurgent leaders' continued popularity with the French colonialists in Algeria ruled out this extreme punishment.

All three Algiers morning newspapers were heavily censored by the authorities. The Algiers press has been openly sympathetic to the revolt against De Gaulle's policy of self-determination for Algeria.

(A one-hour general strike also was called throughout continental France today, but as a demonstration of support for President de Gaulle. All major trade unions—Catholic, Socialist and Communist—supported the demonstration.)

The defenders of the barricaded insurgent strongholds in the heart of Algiers thinned to about 2,000 Sunday night after several hundred territorial guards defeated.

2 Killed In Crash At Midland, Pa.

East Liverpool Man, Boy Are Victims

Thomas May, 50, of East Liverpool and his cousin, Mark Eaton, 13, of Burgettstown, Pa., were killed Saturday night in a three-car crash on Rt. 68, near Midland, Pa.

The boy's mother, Mrs. Katherine Eaton, 49, and a passenger in a second car, Mrs. Iona Gatchell, 38, of Chester, W. Va., were admitted to East Liverpool City Hospital where both are reported in fair condition today.

Three other persons were treated for injuries.

May died of a fractured skull. The boy succumbed to a fractured windpipe.

Treated for injuries were Bruno Porto, 18, another driver, and his passengers, Kenneth Markle, 16, and Steve Krahner, 17, all of Smiths Ferry, Pa.

Porto's auto reportedly sideswiped the May auto in which the boy and his mother were passengers, then struck the second car driven by Mrs. Gatchell's husband, John, 33, who was not injured.

Pennsylvania state troopers are continuing their investigation of the accident.

Burglars Hit Post Office; Loss $30,000

WAUSEON, Ohio (AP) — Burglars made off with between $20,000 and $30,000 in stamps, cash and money orders after cutting through two steel vault doors at the Wauseon post office, Sheriff Loran Yoder reported.

The burglary, committed sometime Saturday night, was discovered Sunday by a panitor. An audit will be needed to determine the exact amount stolen.

The thief or thieves used acetylene torches on the vault doors, cutting holes large enough to crawl through. Once inside the vault, they used the torches to cut through a safe where the stamps, cash and money orders were stored.

Sheriff Yoder said the post office usually carried between $20,000 and $25,000 in stamps alone.

The sheriff said the burglars apparently were well prepared for their task. He believes they even had gas masks to ward off the effects of tear gas which was loosed upon them when they tampered with the outer vault door.

The burglars set up a fan inside the vault to blow the gas outside into the post office workroom, Yoder said.

A technician from the Ohio Bureau of Criminal Investigation and Identification at London reported no luck in trying to find fingerprints on the vault doors, the safe and a fire extinguisher. The burglars used the extinguisher to cool the vault doors after burning through them.

But the technician did make plaster casts of footprints found in soft dirt outside the building.

The thieves gained entrance to the building by first prying open a basement door, then unbolting another door that opened up to the first floor.

Party Chiefs Converge On Moscow

Major Communist Confab Shaping Up

MOSCOW (AP) — A high level political conference of the Communist world today appeared shaping up as premiers and party chiefs of the Soviet-led bloc converged on Moscow.

The Red leaders came for what was officially billed as an agricultural conference opening Tuesday, but the big brass in the delegations gave the gathering more important political overtones.

There are increasing indications that Premier Nikita Khrushchev called the conference as a prelude to his talks with the Western Big Three in Paris in May. Western sources likened the meeting of Red leaders to the NATO conference held by the West in Paris last December.

Khrushchev can be expected to disclose his strategy and get an endorsement to strengthen his position when he confronts President Eisenhower, British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and French President Charles de Gaulle.

The Moscow session has a global scope. Among the arrivals were North Korean Premier Kim Il Sung and Mongolian Communist chief U. Tsedenbal.

Red China's delegates are awaited hourly. Their names were not made known. The makeup of the delegation could be significant.

Among the first arrivals were East Germany's two leaders, Walter Ulbricht and Otto Grotewohl. Romania is represented by party leader Gheorghe Gheorgiu-Dej and Premier Chiuu Stoica. Albania is party chief Enver Hoxha and Bulgaria by Communist leader Todor Zhivkov.

Poland's Wladyslaw Gomulka and Hungary's Janos Kadar and Ferenc Muennich were expected today.

Yugoslavia was not invited. President Tito, in pursuing his own independent policy, no longer meshes gears with the rest of the Communist camp.

The explosions jolted a large area in Portland and Oregon City, 13 miles southwest.

There were no reports of fatalities or injuries.

The explosions here occurred at a warehouse in the heavily industrialized northwest section of the city.

A police demolition squad found an unexploded charge of dynamite in the cab of one truck. Its fuse had gone out.

A spokesman for the Oregonian said the trucks were owned by firms which did contract hauling for the Oregonian and Oregon Journal, the city's two dailies which were struck Nov. 10 by the Stereotypers Union.

The papers have merged forces and have continued at the Oregonian plant to publish a joint edition despite the strike.

Shortly after the explosions the Oregonian switchboard operator received a call from a man who said a bomb was planted in the building. Police failed to find any explosives.

The first explosions were at the Wymore Trucking Co. warehouse in Oregon City. Those in Portland followed minutes later at the Oregon Film Service warehouse.

Seven trucks were parked side by side beside the Wymore warehouse in Oregon City. Two big blasts rocked the area—only six blocks from downtown — and a number of smaller reports followed.

Motorist Hurt When Car Hits Lamp Pole

Joseph R. McGurran, 50, of 840 W. Pershing St., was treated and released at Central Clinic early on Sunday for a lip injury he received when his car knocked off a street lamp post on W. State St.

Police discovered the mishap while on routine patrol. The lamp was broken and the car found in a driveway nearby. Police took McGurran to the Clinic for treatment.

He was fined $10 and costs in Mayor Dean Cranmer's traffic court on a charge of reckless operation.

SCHOOL WINDOW BROKEN

An attempted breaking and entering was discovered over the weekend at St. Paul parochial school. Police said a window in the west door of the gymnasium was broken.

Forestry Exhibition Attracts 125 Persons

One hundred and twenty-five persons attended the Columbiana County Forestry Exposition held on Saturday at United Local School.

The fire control exhibit, along with approximately 30 other exhibits, held the interest of the visitors. Movies and demonstration were given throughout the afternoon, including shearing Christmas trees, with exhibits on woodland management, insect and disease control, tree planters, timber products, forest tree nursery and Christmas tree management.

The meeting was planned by the Columbiana County Forestry Committee.

NURSES AT MEETING

Approximately 50 registered nurses attended two meetings Saturday at the Leetonia Orchard Hill School in reference to setting up a registered nurses list for duty in hospitals and homes in the northern half of the county.

The Scanlon Ambulance Service of Leetonia arranged the meetings.

25 Found Dead In Mine Blast

18 Others Trapped In Japanese Pit

TOKYO (AP)—Rescue workers reported finding the bodies of 25 miners after a gas explosion early today in an ill-fated coal mine in north Japan.

Eighteen other men were trapped 3,600 feet below the frozen earth. Officials of the mine said they still hoped the men would be found alive, but as the hours went by, fear for them increased.

Nine other men crawled to safety after the first searing blast, and rescuers brought out 10 miners despite a fire licking around the pit where the men were trapped. Only one of the 19 was seriously injured.

The flames burned for nearly four hours, then were checked.

One of the miners said his group of seven survivors "roamed many hours, walking on smoldering coal, narrowly escaping continual cave-in."

"We were quite a distance from No. 2 pit where the explosion took place," said Yoshitaro Saito, 29, an engineer. "We did not hear the detonation and discovered the accident after observing smoke coming into the gallery. The coal and the wooden pillars and ties were soon afire."

It was the second major disaster at the mine at Yubari, on the northern Japanese island of Hokkaido. A gas explosion killed 160 men there in 1938. The mine is one of the richest owned by the Hokkaido Colliery and Steamship Co.

More than 500 men, women and children surged around the mine entrance, waiting tensely for news. A cry went up as each survivor came to the surface, faces blackened and hair singed.

Verdict Is Expected In Forgery Trial

LISBON — Testimony is expected to be completed and the verdict returned today in Common Pleas Court in the case of Walter R. Kline, 59, of Alliance, charged with forging and passing a $25 check at the Salem store of Sears, Roebuck and Co.

Kline was indicted by the January Grand Jury and pleaded not guilty at arraignment day, Jan. 18.

Judge Raymond S. Buzzard is presiding.

11 Traffic Accidents Keep Patrol on Jump

An almost hectic weekend for State Highway Patrolmen — they investigated 11 accidents — ended with three persons confined to area hospitals.

In Salem City Hospital are Clarence Helman, 31, of 731 N. Lincoln Ave. and Herman DeCrown, 36, of 824 E. Pershing St.

They were injured at 11 p.m. Saturday when their car ran into the rear of a car driven by Dale Abney, 18, RD 4, Alliance. State Highway Patrolmen said Abney was slowing down to make a turn when his car was struck by the one driven by Helman. DeCrown was a passenger in Helman's car, patrolmen said.

Helman reportedly suffered multiple skin abrasions and DeCrown, lacerations of the skull, fractured ribs and a possible fracture of the right knee. Treated for minor injuries were Abney and a passenger in his car, Linda Stoffer, 19, of RD 2, Beloit. Helman was cited for reckless operation.

John Malone, 21, of RD 1, Salineville, was taken to East Liverpool City Hospital for treatment of head lacerations he suffered at 5 a.m. Sunday. Patrolmen said Malone was injured when his car missed a turn on Rt. 644, six miles northwest of Salineville, and hit two trees. He was arrested for reckless operation.

Ivan Berry, 23, of Leetonia, was charged with reckless operation on Saturday at 2:30 a.m. after he lost control of his car on Butcher Rd., two and one-half miles southeast of Salem. His car went left of center and rolled over, patrolmen said. Berry was not injured.

A 16-year-old Beaver Falls youth escaped injury at 8:10 p.m. on Saturday when his car failed to make a curve on Darlington Rd., just northeast of Negley. The car struck a telephone pole and upset, the patrolmen said. The youth was cited to juvenile court on a charge of reckless operation.

Edward Copeland, 19, RD 1, Lisbon, was charged with driving left

GOP Unit to Endorse Board Candidate

The Republican Executive Committee will meet tonight at 8 at the Lisbon Village Hall to endorse a candidate for a four-year term on the County Election Board.

Two Salem men are seeking the post. They are T. Emerson Smith, incumbent whose term expires on Feb. 23 and Ned Massa, who has been active in GOP affairs for many years.

The committee's endorsement will be forwarded to Secretary of State Ted W. Brown who will make the appointment for the term beginning March 1.

Alien Registration Down 25 From Year Ago

Alien registration in Salem, which ended yesterday, was down 25 from the 1959 registration.

A total of 231 aliens signed up at the Post Office in January. Assistant Postmaster Ray Reich reported. Last year 256 completed the required reports.

Any alien not registering must now report to the Immigration and Naturalization Service in Cleveland.

Air Rescue Practice Planned By CAP Squadron Here Feb. 21

A practice search air and rescue mission has been planned by the Civil Air Patrol for Feb. 21 at the H&E Airport. In case of rain, the event will be Feb. 28, Lt. Paul Howard said.

Objects the size of a crashed airplane will be planted within the search area and a planned precision mission will be conducted from the airport by seven CAP pilots using private planes. A ground mobile unit of cadets will be directed by Frank Hill. Lt. Howard said that because of the increase in use of private planes by both individuals and business firms, the need for a well-trained group such as CAP is becoming more and more necessary.

All Group 3 Squadrons—Warren, Youngstown, Alliance and Steubenville—will be alerted and asked to stand by during the mission, Lt. Howard said.

Other activities planned for January, February and March, include cadet demonstration rides Sunday at 1 p.m. from the H&E Airport, a building program for group meetings at the airport, and public demonstration rides and a breakfast, also at the airport.

Pilots George Conrad, Joe Sox, Lemuel Anderson, Fred Paddon, Kermit Riffe, Don Stapleton and Carl Lippitt will donate their time, efforts and private planes.

The cadet group won third place in drill competition last Sunday at the Navy Reserve Armory in Youngstown although the group had not been able to practice during the winter months. He directed credit to Group Drill Sgt. Gene Hanna and Cadet Commandant Bud Hill.

Cadets Kip VanHorn and Manfred Meine were reappointed to the group staff conference committee to represent Salem Cadet Squadron for 1960.

Cadet meetings are held every Wednesday night at the Home Savings and Loan building, where the next senior meeting will be Feb. 10. Any cadets or adults interested in helping the group may attend the meetings or call Howard at ED 76065 or ED 7-7352.

Hanoverton Group To Meet Tuesday

HANOVERTON — The Presbyterian Women's Guild will meet Tuesday evening with Mrs. Paul Clapsaddle of Kensington. Mrs. Karl Stoudt is president.

Mrs. Celeste Conser of New Garden accompanied Mrs. Peg Weyant to Peebles, O., where they attended the district school of instruction of Order of Eastern Star. Mr. and Mrs. Michael Kupinski and daughters were recent dinner guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Garland Davis at New Garden. The occasion observed the birthday of Mr. Davis and Richard Davis.

The son born to Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Crowell has been named Karl Frederick.

Mrs. Van Mills was host at a demonstration at her home, with 17 in attendance.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Sloss were Mrs. Florence McClinick and Mrs. Libby McMillan of Bergholz.

200 At Church Youth Rally At Hanoverton

HANOVERTON — Two hundred young people were in attendance for the Southern Area Youth Convention held recently at the Hanoverton Christian Church.

Thomas Crowell, president of local group, welcomed the group. Miss Mary Helen Trough led group singing. A vocal solo was given by Arthur Kibler, accordion solo by Judy Wilson.

The speaker was James Carnahan of Minerva, whose topic was "You Cannot Get Rid of God."

LISBON MAN IS ACTOR — Tom McKenna of RD 5, Lisbon, has the role of Captain Kidd, whom he will portray in the forthcoming production of the Pittsburgh Children's Theater, "Captain Kidd Returns," which a number of Columbiana County school children will see this spring. McKenna, who appears to be in trouble (above) from villainous Francois (Bob Gray) will appear with the troupe at Columbiana and East Palestine schools in March.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N.Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place. Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!"

The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne)—discovery of a world-famous research institute. This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name Preparation H. At your druggist. Money back guaranteed.

Here's The Answer

QUESTION: The sidewalk in front of our house is in need of patching and I would like to undertake the job myself. I have not done work of this kind and wonder whether any special skill is required.

Answer: I will take your word for it that you actually mean patching and not replacing a section of the sidewalk. If so, you can do the job with a reasonably good chance that it will come out all right. The important thing is to provide a kind of "locked in" area in which the new concrete can set properly. This is done by chipping away all old, loose concrete and then undercutting the edges. Undercutting is done with a cold chisel and a hammer. Chip the edges of the opening at an angle so that the space at the bottom is larger than the space at the top. Thus when the new concrete is put into place, it will harden in a "locked-in" position. Since your project will not require a large amount of concrete, you can buy a small package or bag of the patching material that requires only the addition of water. Of course, you will have to protect the patched region for several days to prevent anyone from marring it during the curing period. Also, it will be necessary to prevent the repair from drying out too quickly. This is done by wetting the patch frequently or placing a damp cloth over it and moistening it at least once a day.

QUESTION: Our front doorbell operates on a battery. Lately, the battery is going dead every couple of months. Can you tell us what is wrong?

ANSWER: This is almost a sure sign of a short circuit. Better disconnect the wires until you find where the short circuit is.

STATELY RANCH—Dignified and stable—those are perfect adjectives for this seven-room ranch which covers 1,870 square feet. Features are the large foyer with twin closets, 22-foot living room with fireplace, den or family room secluded behind the garage, and a covered porch off the den. It has three bedrooms, two baths and the den or family room, and is Plan HA117P, by Architect Samuel Paul, 89-51 164 St., Jamaica 32, N.Y.

Now Is The Time To Get At Mid-Winter Maintenance Jobs

Right about now you're probably going through the mid-winter doldrums. You've taken the necessary cold weather precautions around the house and yard and you feel there's not much more to do until spring.

Even though you may not want to start any major projects, you can fill odd moments with some very necessary maintenance chores.

Stop Squeaks

Just about the time the furnace went on you may have noticed that the floors and stairs sarted to squeak. Floor boards dry out, even shrink. A little powdered graphite or soap powder sprinkled between them will provide temporary silence.

For a more permanent cure try driving wedges between the sub-floor and joists wherever there seems to be a source of noise. If you can't get below the floor, drive flooring nails through the floor boards and into the joist. A pair of them driven at angles so they cross should do it.

Screws or nails through the tread and into the riser will cure stairs of squeaks.

Furnace Fix

Speaking of the furnace, now that it's been going for a while it ought to be looked at. Check the filter if the furnace has a blower. It might need replacing (or cleaning if it's the permanent type). Oil the motor and check the belt for wear and proper tension.

If furnace pipes are hot while rooms upstairs are cool, this is a good time to wrap the pipes with asbestos.

Walls and woodwork are often midwinter casualties as youngsters spend more time indoors, bumping into furniture instead of trees.

Memory Good?

If you saved some of the paint in a tightly capped container last time you painted walls you're set for most touch-up jobs. If you didn't, resolve to do it next time. Meanwhile, try to recall the brand and color and check with your paint dealer.

Surfaces should be clean before touching up. A light sanding will feather the edges of the old paint so that the finished spot won't bulge.

For woodwork and furniture keep a supply of shellac sticks of varying shades on hand. They'll handle all the fine scratches that accumulate over a period of indoor living. Wax the spot once it's been touched up.

A variety of porcelain retouching products are on the market. Keep one around for those occasions that a youngsters tricycle gets too close to the refrigerator or stove.

Lockout

Another problem that becomes acute in cold weather is balky locks. A well-lubricated lock is less likely to freeze than one that hasn't been taken care of. But do not use oil. Blow a little powdered graphite in the key hole. Work the key in the lock a few times until the action is smooth. Auto locks—including the ignition lock—will give you less trouble this winter if cared for in this manner.

Winter seems like an odd time to be thinking about air conditioning a house to make the torrid days of summer more comfortable.

But from a practical standpoint, winter actually is the best time to install air conditioning, waiting until summer may mean higher cost and a possible delay in having the work done.

At this time of year air conditioning dealers are not rushed. They are eager to keep their crews busy. Competition among dealers is more likely to result in lower bids.

Another advantage of installing air conditioning prior to summer is that the work will be finished and the equipment will be ready to go into operation at the first sign of hot weather.

This avoids the annoyance of waiting for a contractor to do the job while temperatures and tempers rise.

Today it is possible to air condition a house at a far lower cost than ever before. This is because research has shown that proper insulation permits the use of smaller, less expensive equipment.

In Southern states as much as 25 per cent can be saved on the cost of equipment if a house is insulated with 6 inches of mineral wool in walls, at least 3 inches in floors, and a minimum of 2 inches in ceilings. In most Northern states, the same thicknesses of mineral wool can reflect a savings of up to 20 per cent.

Sharp Increase In Electrically Heated Homes Predicted

At least six million homes in the U.S. will be operating completely with electricity by 1970, predicts the Edison Electric Institute, sponsor of the Live Better Electrically program.

This trend toward complete electric living is largely due to recognition of electric house heating as efficient and practical in all climates. This has been made possible by new knowledge and improvements in home building.

Among these improvements are the efficient use of thick mineral wool insulation, tighter construction, and modern electrical heating equipment.

Important in good insulation is the thickness of the material. For electric heating, a thickness of 6 inches in the ceiling is recommended. Walls need at least 3 inches of mineral wool and floors over unheated areas require a minimum thickness of 2 inches.

Mineral wool batts and blankets in these thicknesses are available for installation during construction of new homes or for adding new rooms. Existing homes can be insulated readily by a contractor, who forces mineral wool into walls and ceilings under air pressure.

With proper insulation, more even temperatures are maintained. Heating costs are reduced because heat stays inside the house. Insulation is a permanent improvement that raises the value of the house and continues to afford comfort and economy through every year of occupancy.

Khrushchev Has His Problems Too

"The spirit of Camp David," presumably shattered by collapse of negotiations for settlement of Russia's war debt to the United States, was Premier Khrushchev's phrase in the first place.

But Americans wanted to believe in it as much as he said he did. We wanted to think it was possible for the United States and the Soviet Union to quit niggling at each other. We wanted to believe that negotiation could replace arm-twisting in international differences of opinion, just as President Eisenhower and Russia's premier had agreed it should when they finished their talks last September.

It should be recalled, however, that Mr. Khrushchev said in his summation of events after the Camp David talks that he was convinced of President Eisenhower's sincerity about wanting to get along amicably but that the meeting had been only a beginning. "We could not clear out all the cold war rubble that has piled up during many years," he told his countrymen when he returned to Moscow. He had said the same thing previously in a National Press Club interview in Washington.

HE WAS AWARE of widespread and deep-seated enmity to him and his government in the United States. He had seen hostile banners and heard critical statements. When he voiced reservations about amity, he was voicing the same reservations that Americans felt when they doubted that all Russians would be as candid and agreeable as Mr. Khrushchev seemed to be on his visit.

Premier Khrushchev, like President Eisenhower, is the executive head of a government in which he holds power by consent.

Even more than the President, he must depend on his associates, who can depose him in a matter of hours by an adverse vote in the Council of Ministers.

Inside Russia the struggle for political power is ruthless—not as bloody and fatal as it was under Stalin but ceaseless and fierce. Khrushchev can perform no miracles. He must play off one faction against another. Even if he wanted to end the cold war and maintain good relations, as he has every good reason to want to do, he must deal inside the Kremlin with men whose chief goal is to discredit him.

It is only an illusion that a dictatorship is free from the endless trimming and hedging that characterize the operation of a republic. The politicking is as tireless and deadly as it is everywhere else in the halls of government.

IF KHRUSHCHEV had the wit last fall to distinguish between the friendship and courtesy of his official host and the rancor and hatred of Americans who have no patience with negotiation, this may be the time for Americans to think twice before jumping to the conclusion that the "spirit of Camp David" never was more than an empty phrase.

Khrushchev wanted to believe there was a new spirit. Our own President wanted to believe it. But there may have been Russians who hated the thought, just as there certainly were Americans who hated it. And it must not be forgotten that Mr. Khrushchev must run for office every minute of every day of his life—not just once in four years.

The spirit of the Kremlin moves him more directly than the spirit of Camp David.

B70, Code Number for Debate

There apparently is going to be another of those flesh-creeping defense squabbles over an airplane designated B70. The chief of staff of the Air Force has promised he will fight a cutback in the project to develop it as a U.S. superbomber. Congressmen are muttering about the cutback, and President Eisenhower, who favors the cutback, has said in a press conference he does not intend to change his mind.

Here we go again, taxpayers.

Here is a re-run of the squabble about the battleship vs. the airplane, the horse vs. the tank, the short bow vs. the long bow and gunpowder vs. dynamite.

Strong men with strong opinions are going to the mat over an issue of opinion. No one knows. Everybody's guessing, and taxpayers only can hope the right side wins. But in order to follow the issue, certain elements must be understood.

First, it must be understood that important weapons never are abandoned. They are only sublimated to other newer weapons. The United States still possesses battleships and cavalry horses, though it does not use them. In this instance, the airplane known as the B70 would not be abandoned. It merely would not be developed as an operational weapon, pending further knowledge of what might be needed.

The B70 already has cost a half billion dollars for development. This investment is expected to produce two prototypes, which would make it possible to turn out production models on short notice, if the prototypes prove satisfactory.

Second, it must be understood that differences of opinion about weapons are part of the life blood of public controversy in the United States. No other nation can afford such latitude of debate about a vital subject. Perhaps this country can't afford it either. In this country politicians who may not know beans about the subject discuss military strategy as if they were members of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Even the American public takes sides and finds itself shouting pros and cons. It is silly, but certainly no sillier than it is for a handful of military brass to make up their minds to stake everything on Maginot Lines, Stukas and Zeros—to name three classical blunders of military thinking in recent years.

The United States has the benefit at least of not becoming so overcommitted to any one weapon that it has no choice but to start a war to recover its military investment before the weapon becomes obsolete.

Inside Labor By Victor Riesel

Victor Riesel

History was scheduled to be made, symbolically enough in New York City's Century Club, at 2:30 p.m. last Jan. 19. A room had been reserved for a secret meeting of two men—each a leader of influential forces in this land. Every man who works hard for a buck—for bread or for profit—would have been affected.

The two men were set to talk about unions and management living in peace, with seldom a strike cutting into breadbaskets or profit margins.

Those two men were George Meany, head of the AFL-CIO and Rudolph F. Bannow, president of the National Assn. of Manufacturers. Members of President Eisenhower's cabinet had asked them to sit down in a tiny private summit and try to work out plans for a national public summit session of labor and industry.

History wasn't made. At the last minute the labor leader had to switch plans.

However, President Eisenhower's Labor Secretary Jim Mitchell and Commerce Secretary Fred

Mueller and their aides will continue to burn up the phone wires trying to set up another such session.

THIS TALK had been set after the Commerce Department—at White House instructions—attempted to find industrialists who could speak for American business.

They approached, for example, Ralph Cordner, head of the great General Electric Co. Cordner advised he could not speak for America's businessmen. He was asked for suggestions.

The inquirer was told he might deal with the national business associations. It was then that the NAM was approached.

There would be no difficulty in finding spokesmen for labor at a summit gathering. It was Meany's suggestion in a letter to Mr. Eisenhower that such a parley be called. After talking to the President, Mitchell contacted Meany.

In the past few weeks, they have talked in the national AFL-CIO headquarters and over the phone. Meany will name the labor delegation. It will probably include Walter Reuther and Al Hayes along with other policy makers.

Meany can do that because virtually all industrial labor is represented by one organization—acting together in joint policy.

But despite the talk of tycoons, there apparently is no one man, no small group of men who can talk for all American industry.

Yet Labor Secretary Mitchell—and that means Richard Nixon as surely as chili goes with carne—wants a domestic summit within six weeks.

THE WHITE HOUSE is wary of this one. A brawl among the giants before the nation's press would make the sports section academic that day. But Jim Mitchell says there is no need for the leaders of labor and management to agree on anything—except that industrial war is bad for the nation.

With that as a premise, the government would then say, this is your summit. Now set up a series of lesser summits—industry by industry, company by company, perhaps even plant by plant.

At the top in each field, the leaders of both sides would meet regularly. They would "communicate" long before they had to walk into a bargaining room with set positions on wages, hours and work practices.

With the top leaders in each field meeting on friendly terms, perhaps an example could be set for sessions right on down to the plant level.

It was at the first such labor-management talk ever held that Nixon and Mitchell formulated the policy specifically. That was on the night of Jan. 11, in the vice president's home.

Mitchell and Nixon, in effect, told the leaders of steel labor and industry:

Both sides should show a greater amount of cooperation on a regular basis. You ought to carry this right on down to the local level to discuss problems of efficiency. This productivity could be increased and higher prices avoided. This ought to take the form of meetings right on down to stewards and labor industrial relations officers so more could be produced at the bottom.

And that's why history could have been made that day in the Century Club.

GOP Sets Precedent

By DAVID LAWRENCE

100,000 People Participate In Dinner By TV

There has never been anything like it in the history of political dinners. A total of about 100,000 people in more than 80 cities participated in a single dinner by television. The public wasn't in on it but the show was something to see and hear.

Maybe the Republicans will put on before the nation some night the recorded tape of the closed-circuit performance of Wednesday night. For this device—making it a private dinner with the President of the United States as the featured speaker—helped the sale of tickets.

More than five million dollars was raised after expenses, which were large. The television facilities alone cost $3,000,000.

If it had been on a public hook-up, many who attended would not have bought tickets and most people would have sat at home and looked at the proceedings. So the Republicans were wise in their plan. Besides, they furnished good food and entertainment and those who paid $100 a plate for themselves and $10 for guests got to a considerable extent their money's worth. There were more than 7,000 persons at each dinner in Los Angeles and Chicago.

Being able to switch the speakers on the screen instantly from Boston to Los Angeles or from Pittsburgh to Miami or from Chicago to Denver made the event a mechanical miracle.

David Lawrence

impressive speech at the Washington dinner. His charm was the subject of favorable comment by many who had never seen him before. He certainly gave full praise to the Eisenhower administration—something he hasn't done at such length before.

Some press dispatches point out that he didn't mention Nixon. Neither did Mr. Eisenhower. In fact, no 1960 candidates were mentioned in any of the speeches televised across the country.

The whole thing was billed as "Dinner with Ike," and the occasion was used to emphasize what a good administration the Republicans have been giving the country and what a fine President Mr. Eisenhower has made.

The inference, of course, politically speaking, was that the people should be urged to continue the Republican party in power.

Each dinner had its own speakers and entertainment, so the banquet in every city was a full-fledged affair. The television started at 10 o'clock, Eastern Time, and lasted an hour. Very wisely, the managers didn't provide just a speech-making event. They had singers and brief speeches from different cities rather than any long-winded harangues.

It should be noted that, as political dinners go, this was a contrast to the Democratic party banquets in various cities held a week ago.

The Republicans made no snoring remarks about any of the Democratic candidates. Their criticisms were in general and impersonal terms—a very good example to set to their rivals for this election year.

ONE THOUGHT crossed the mind of this writer as he surveyed the scene from the press table—if $5,000,000 or $6,000,000 can be netted out of a coast-to-coast dinner, that's a simply way to raise a lot of campaign funds.

The Republicans now are talking of Lincoln Day dinners, too. Maybe it's a means by which enough money could be raised to make it unnecessary for either party to accept contributions from big business or from big unions.

The federal laws forbid contributions by corporations and unions but the individuals in companies contribute large sums and the unions have Political Action Committees that go around pressuring union members to make so-called "voluntary" contributions.

How much better it would be if campaign funds could be raised in small sums, not only to elect a president and vice president but to elect senators and representatives so it could no longer be implied that a congressional majority can be bought.

After witnessing the Republican dinner, it must be said that Republican party workers have an abundance of enthusiasm as well as confidence.

Judging by the many new faces in leadership—especially the younger Republicans at the speakers' tables on every side—there is a new "image" of the Republican party abroad in the land.

From Our Readers

Against Traffic Change

I, for one, protest the proposed re-routing of Lincoln Ave. traffic over the Pidgeon and Depot Roads. If this heavy traffic ruins pavement, imagine how quickly these county roads will be in dire need of repairs.

The homes of residents on S. Lincoln are located a great distance from the street, whereas most of the homes on these two rural roads are very close, thus making heavy traffic doubly annoying.

There is no need for giving some people special consideration.

It is with amusement that I read the news article on the re-routing of Rt. 45.

About 1937, this same proposal was before authorities. The entire cost, as I recall, would have been paid by the government as part of the public works Program.

There was a big fuss made about it, as it would bypass the city and the merchants thought they might lose a little business, so

Children's Shelter

Appointment of a Wellsville couple as superintendent and matron of the county's new receiving home brings the opening of the children's haven a step closer.

The former East Palestine residence, given by Roger Kyes, General Motors executive and former defense secretary, in memory of his parents, L. M. and Myra Kyes, has been renovated by county commissioners so that a maximum of 10 children may be cared for.

Edwin E. Patzsch, a former evangelist, and his wife will manage the Kyes Memorial Children's Receiving Home. Their choice seems to be a good one. When the home is opened Feb. 15 welfare department officials no longer will have to seek temporary shelter for unfortunate and neglected children. This humanitarian move is a credit to the county.

Looking Backward

5 YEARS AGO—Frederick G. Horning was placed on the dean's list for the fall quarter at Ohio State University.

10 YEARS AGO—Guy J. Mauro was name chairman of the approval committee of the Salem Community Scholarship Association.

25 YEARS AGO—The group of one-act plays presented last night by the Community Club Players, with music by Miss Margaret Kirkbride, was well-attended.

40 YEARS AGO—Miss Minnie Mild was surprised when the girls of the Hemmeter store gave her a miscellaneous shower Friday.

Our Young Laymen

Youth took over in a number of local churches Sunday. The Interdenominational Youth Council held an afternoon service at the First Baptist Church, district young people of the Disciples of Christ met at the First Christian Church and in several other congregations, like the First Friends, young people took complete charge of the day's worship.

Adults were impressed. They couldn't help but admire these young laymen who contribute of their individual talents to the furtherance of church work. Many of them are dedicated workers.

Our community is fortunate to have so many active boys and girls who accept their home, school and church responsibilities, leaving no time for such things as juvenile delinquency.

Reds Fire Second Rocket In Pacific

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union fired off a second powerful rocket Sunday, hitting the target area in the Pacific and ending the current tests, Tass announced today.

The official news agency said the 44,000 square miles of the mid-Pacific marked off by the Soviet Union Jan. 8 once more is open to planes and shipping.

The first rocket was fired Jan. 20. Moscow announced that it landed little more than a mile off target. The announcement of the second shot did not specify how close it came to the actual target.

The announcement did not give the distance the rocket traveled Sunday. It calculated the first rocket covered a distance of 7,760 miles and missed the target by only 1.24 miles. (The second rocket presumably was launched from the same site, believed to be in the Caspian Sea area).

CANFIELD CLUB SPEAKER

CANFIELD — Tom Cashmore, the right reverend lord bishop of Dunwich, England, will address the members of the Canfield Rotary Club Friday.

124-Year-Old Building At Columbiana to Be Razed

COLUMBIANA — An historic building on N. Main St. was scheduled to go under the wrecker's hammers today.

Target for demolition is a frame structure located on the north side of Churchill's Pharmacy. Erected in 1836, it for nearly 70 years served as the quarters for the Daniel Stouffer general store — at one time an enterprise of major importance here. Vacant at present, and empty for long periods in recent years, the building last housed City Radio & TV.

The structure will be razed to make way for a self-serve laundry. The new enterprise is a project of Amos Campbell, who operates a local dry cleaning establishment with several outlying branch offices. In place of the landmark.

On Jan. 23, an "official" opening was marked for a "Laundromat" on S. Main St. at Railroad St., the first in town. Already in operation for a couple of weeks, the enterprise is a project of C. T. Newsom, manager of the North East Ohio Poultry Association.

FOR THEIR MEETING this evening at Valley Golf Club, members of Rotary Club have a special guest speaker. He is the Rt. Rev. Thomas Cashmore, lord bishop of Dunwich, England, past president of Rotary in the British Isles and a past director of Rotary International. His visit was arranged by local member, Maurice Michaud.

Speaker at this evening's meeting of Kiwanis Club at Heck's Restaurant will be Dr. Scott White-leather of Minerva, a farmer-doctor often referred to as the "wheat rebel" for his controversies with the U.S. government over wheat acreage allotments.

MRS. MARGARET RAY will have charge of the program "Needlepoints, the Everyday Tensions in a Woman's Life," when Miriam Circle of the Presbyterian Church meets at 8 p.m. Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Ann Wakefield, 418 Parkview Drive.

Mrs. Martha Arn will have charge of devotions. Hostesses will be Mrs. Kathryn Campbell, Mrs. Dorothy James and Mrs. Rose Arbuckle.

Salem to Seek 12th Win Tuesday At Youngstown South

7-6 Record Held By Warriors

Foes Have Height, Good In Rebounding

By DICK BRAUTIGAM

Salem's Quakers, number three ranked scholastic cage squad among Ohio's 432 Class AA high schools, will be shooting for their 12th victory in 13 starts when they meet Youngstown South on Tuesday at the South High Field House.

South is undefeated in Youngstown City Series play. However, it has lost six and won only three against non-Youngstown schools. Its overall record is seven wins and six losses.

South's 4-0 record in City Series play puts the Warriors in second place behind East which has a 5-0 mark. The two Youngstown powers will collide on Feb. 12 in a contest which will probably decide the city championship.

At South Tuesday the Quakers will be facing an opponent which has good height and is plenty tough to beat in the rebounding department.

Ace of the Warriors' is big Don Willis, the only veteran on the squad. He possesses an uncanny assortment of hook shots. Willis has also been scoring heavily on tip-ins and one-handers from 10 and five feet out. He is the team's best rebounder.

Other starters for South are Tom Jenkins, better known for his football talents, John Tensley, Bob Price and Lou Leonard. Bernie Baker has seen considerable action.

SOUTH CAME out on the short end of a pair of games over the weekend. It dropped a 68-55 decision on Friday at Steubenville against the Big Red. Returning to their home court on Saturday, the Warriors got thumped again, this time by Niles, 65-56. Salem owns a 63-56 decision over Niles.

South's worst licking this year was administered by unbeaten Canton Timken, the state's seventh ranked outfit. The Trojans smothered South 69-41 on the Warriors' home court.

Timken's press bothered the Youngstowners and when South did get the ball into scoring territory, it couldn't seem to hit. In a pre-season scrimmage here, the Quakers handed Canton Timken without too much trouble.

THE WARRIORS have looked rough on occasions. Among their victims are East Liverpool which fell 70-56, Youngstown Chaney, 57-45, and Youngstown Wilson, 64-54.

If South loses to Salem, it will have to spurt at the end of the season if Coach Merle Rosselle is going to maintain the enviable record he has going. Since taking the reins at South in 1941, Rosselle's clubs never have experienced a losing season.

South dropped a pair of games to Salem last year. The Quakers won 84-39 during the regular season and 70-46 in tournament play.

TWO YEARS AGO it was South who bumped Salem out of the Youngstown Sectional tourney with a 54-49 upset victory over Coach John Cabas' powerhouse which had gone undefeated during the regular season.

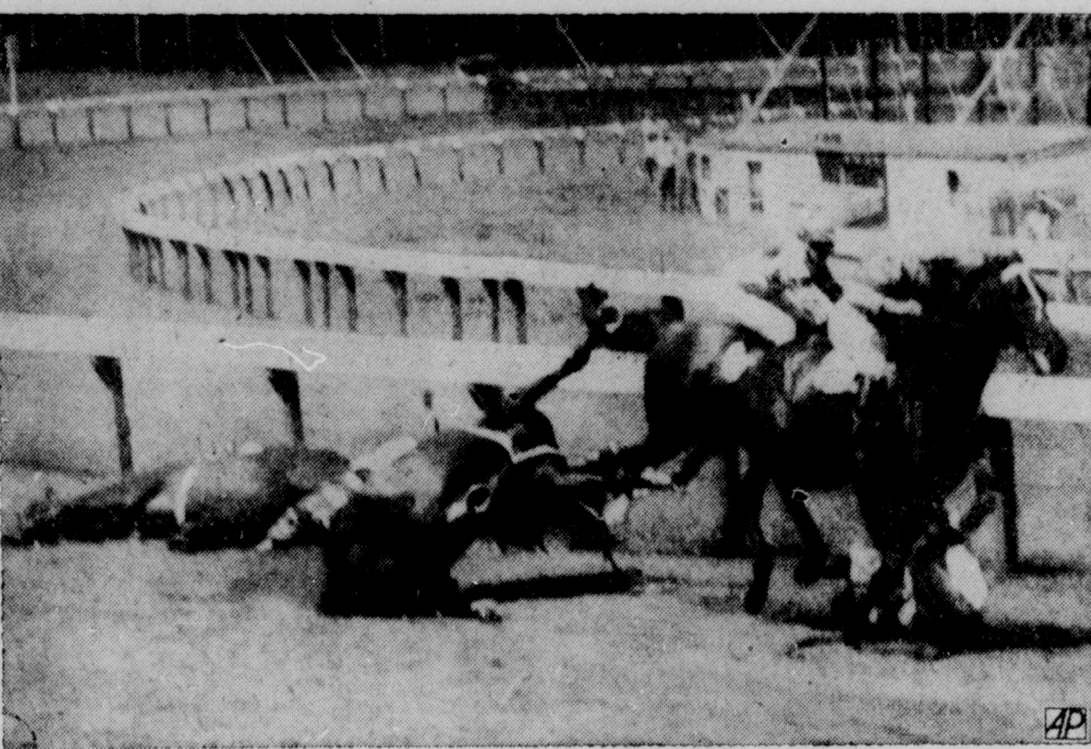

The reserve game Tuesday will get underway at 6:45 p.m. with the main go slated to follow at about 8. These will be the only two games played at the South Field House on Tuesday night.

There is no advance ticket sale in Salem but seats are plentiful in the spacious Field House. All seats are general admission.

SPECTACULAR SPILL — This spill added to the excitement of the Monomeith Handicap in Melbourne, Australia. Apprentice jockey Bob Durey, whose mount, Rising Rocket, left, went down in a stride, scrambled under rail to safety. Gurney, second from left, bounces on hind quarters after somersaulting over Rising Rocket, tossing jockey Alan Yeomans ahead of him and under hooves of two other horses. Yeomans suffered only leg bruises. Winning apprentice jockey Percy Jenkins, who rode Quitos, was suspended for a month for having caused the spills.

Indoor High Jump Record Set by Boston U. Sophomore

NEW YORK (AP)—How high is up for John Thomas?

No one in his right mind would set a limit on the high jumping talents of the gangling Boston University sophomore.

San Diego Open Won by Souchak

SAN DIEGO (AP)—Mike Souchak, one of the most popular professionals in golf, led a contingent to the rich gold diggings of Palm Springs today, still jubilant over his victory in the $20,000 San Diego Open.

Souchak won the $2,800 top money here Sunday after a see-saw battle with unheralded Johnny (Tee) Pott of Shreveport, La., that was not decided until the final putt.

Husky, 200-pound Mike had finished a threesome ahead with 72-hole scores of 67-68-67-67—269, 19 under par for the distance.

Pott, 24, a relative newcomer to renown, had a chance to tie when he came to the 18th. But he had to sink a 25-foot putt for a birdie and missed.

It got him a 69 for the day and 270 for the tournament.

Art Wall Jr., made a great challenge to unseat the leaders but his 68 gave him 273.

Tied at 274 were National Open Champion Billy Casper and Allen Geiberger, each with 69s, and Dave Marr, with a 67.

Arnold Palmer and Bob Goalby finished with 70s and Don January with a 66 for a deadlock at 275.

Souchak, as well as his brother pros, was anxious to get to Palm Springs where the unique, $100,000 90-hole event gets under way Wednesday. Play will be over four courses the first four days—Thunderbird, Tamarisk, Indian Wells and Bermuda Dunes.

Wilt Tallies 41 As Warriors Whip Lakers

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Big Wilt Chamberlain left town today with the Cow Palace scoring record but San Francisco fans appeared less than anxious for a National Basketball Assn. franchise.

Wilt the Stilt scored 41 points Sunday to lead the Philadelphia Warriors to a 114-104 win over the Minneapolis Lakers.

The same teams try it again tonight in Los Angeles, hoping for a bigger welcome than they received here.

The Cow Palace was just over half-filled with 8,057 paying spectators. The promoters made money but they lost enough on an earlier game between Minneapolis and Syracuse to finish about $2,500 behind on the two promotions.

Fred Solari, the former pro who staged the game, said, "The folks need a hometown interest in the game. If we had our own team, I think it would be different."

Bob Short, president of the Lakers, didn't offer any hope of a move here. "We're still trying to stay in Minneapolis," he said.

The 7-foot-2 Chamberlain's final basket, a dunk with 25 seconds left, broke the arena record of 39 set by Ron Tomasic of Stanford.

Abe Woodson of the San Francisco 49ers led the National Football League in kickoff returns with a 29.4 average last season. He took 13 kickoffs a total of 382 yards.

Other winners included Don Bragg in the pole vault (15-4 and missed three times at 16 feet). Tom Murphy of the New York A.C. in the half mile (1:53). Frank Budd of Villanova in the 60-yard dash (6.2). Mal Spence of Arizona State in the Mel Sheppard 600 (1:11.5). Jim Grelle of Oregon in the Wanamaker Mile (4:06.4). and Al Lawrence of Houston in the 3-mile run (13:38, second fastest ever indoors).

Thomas' performance took some of the glitter off Hayes Jones' 7 second flat 60-yard high hurdles. That tied the indoor record and marked the third time he has been clocked in 7 flat. Milt Campbell, who did it twice, is the only other timber topper who has done it in 7 seconds.

Souchak, as well as his brother pros, was anxious to get to Palm Springs where the unique, $100,000 90-hole event gets under way Wednesday. Play will be over four courses the first four days—Thunderbird, Tamarisk, Indian Wells and Bermuda Dunes.

There is no advance ticket sale in Salem but seats are plentiful in the spacious Field House. All seats are general admission.

South's worst licking this year was administered by unbeaten Canton Timken, the state's seventh ranked outfit. The Trojans smothered South 69-41 on the Warriors' home court.

Timken's press bothered the Youngstowners and when South did get the ball into scoring territory, it couldn't seem to hit. In a pre-season scrimmage here, the Quakers handed Canton Timken without too much trouble.

The reserve game Tuesday will get underway at 6:45 p.m. with the main go slated to follow at about 8. These will be the only two games played at the South Field House on Tuesday night.

Lowellville Rips Springfield

Triumph Is 13th In Row for Rockets

Lowellville continued its winning habit Saturday by trampling invading Springfield Local 74-43 in an Inter-County League fray.

The Rockets raced with ease to their 13th straight victory. Springfield Local dropped its ninth game and third in a row. The Rockets have won only four. Lowellville had defeated Springfield Local earlier in the season by a 76-52 count.

Nine of the Rockets' 13 wins this season have come over Inter-County League opposition. Canfield is also undefeated in league play and is tied with Lowellville for the loop lead. The two powers have an engagement at Lowellville Feb. 19.

The Rockets had five men who scored in double figures in their rout of Springfield Local on Saturday. As usual, it was Phil Genova who paced the Lowellville attack with 19 points. Kenny Camp added 18 markers to the cause. Genova has tallied 220 points this season, 10 more than his running mate, Camp.

Jerry Randall and Roger Myers with 10 points apiece led the Tiger scorers.

Lowellville doubled the score on Springfield Local in the first period. The Rockets maintained quarter leads of 20-10, 34-18 and 52-31.

Springfield Local's reserve squad gave the Rocket jayvees a 35-29 working over in the prelim.

Beaver Grapplers Win 10th Match

Beaver Local's wrestling team chalked up its 10th win in 11 matches when it downed Mentor 25-12 Saturday at Mentor.

Chuck Timmons and Carl Hoppe of the Beavers won their matches to remain undefeated. Timmons pinned Logan of Mentor in 1:33. Timmons has recorded 11 pins and two decisions this season.

Joppe easily decided Dice of Mentor 8-1. Timmons wrestles in the 103-pound class and Hoppe in the 133-pound division.

In winning the match, Beaver Local recorded two pins and five decisions. Junior Wayne Hickman in the 120-pound class was the other Beaver Local grappler to win by a pin.

Decision victories for the Beavers were racked up by Bill Great-house, 138-pounds; Bob McBane, 145-pounds; Jim Hall, 154-pounds; Ray Carter, 165-pounds; and Hoppe, the defending state champion who is only a sophomore.

Francis Passage of the Beavers lost his first match of the season when he dropped a 1-0 decision to Runyon of Mentor in the 112-pound class.

Beaver Local will entertain the East Liverpool wrestling squad at 3 p.m. on Saturday. The Beavers already own one victory over the Potters.

Mahoning County 'A' Pairings to be Drawn
Pairings for the annual Mahoning County Class A basketball tournament will be held Monday night at Robinwood School in Boardman.

The tourney will be held Feb. 22-24 at the Struthers Field House. The six schools which will participate in the single elimination tournament are Springfield Local, Lowellville, Jackson, Milton, Greenford, North Lima and Western Reserve.

Springfield Local is defending champion but undefeated Lowellville is a strong favorite to advance this year.

Buckeyes Race 111-79

OSU Goes on Biggest Scoring Spree In Win Over MSU

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio State's rampaging Buckeyes have another romp in prospect tonight—and then the championship outlook takes on a sterner aspect.

Michigan, 0-4 in the Big Ten and 2-11 for the season, offers the opposition tonight at St. John Arena—but six of the next eight games, all in the conference, are on the road. And of the 360 games played this season by Ohio teams, the visiting squads have picked up only 114 victories.

The Bucks put on the greatest scoring spree in the university's history Saturday night in blasting Michigan State's defending champions 111 to 79. It was also the greatest total ever surrendered by the Spartans.

Jerry Lucas, although missing the week's practice with a flu attack, stepped in for 25 points in an abbreviated appearance. That cut his 14-game average to 27.2, sixth best in the country.

While Ohio is battling Michigan tonight in quest of a 6-0 Big Ten mark (all the others have lost at least twice), Cincinnati will hold the center of the spotlight. The top-ranked team in the country entertains Drake in a Missouri Valley contest, but the big eye-catcher is Oscar (Big O) Robertson's assault on the three-year collegiate scoring record.

Oscar has piled up 2535 points in three years, just three away from the national mark set by Furman's Frank Selvy in 1954. Unless he breaks a leg, Robertson figures to go around the old standard with plenty to spare. He leads the country with a 35.8 mark after being held to 29 by the defense-minded Citadel last week.

Ohio State, top scoring team in the land, boosted its average to 93 with the basket avalanche against the Spartans, but runner-up Cincinnati skidded to 87.3 in the 64-43 Citadel conquest.

Fifty games are on this week's slate, and several are vital in the various leagues. Cincinnati entertains Houston in a Missouri Valley game Saturday, while Ohio State is visiting Northwestern. Ohio still has Wisconsin, Illinois, Michigan State, Indiana and Minnesota to dispose of on the road after the Wildcat clash.

Bowling Green's Jim Darrow, the country's fourth-best scorer with a 28.3 average, gets two chances after being idle last week. The Falcons visit Marshall Tuesday and Miami Saturday in Mid-American games.

Toledo, 13th in the country, and Dayton's 19th-ranked Flyers got a shot at the same foes last week and the Flyers came out ahead. Dayton whipped Virginia Tech 77-59, while Toledo did it 48-46. The Flyers turned back Wake Forest 62-45 after the Rockets defeated the same team 70-63.

Ohio teams played 21 of their 32 games last week against out-of-state opponents, and the Buckeyes won 14 while losing 7.

Goshen Union Rolls 75-43

Western Reserve Is Easy Victim

Goshen Union rolled up its highest point total of the season Saturday night before home town fans when it pisted a 75-43 defeat on the Western Reserve Blue Devils.

Dick Loudon of the Gophers turned in his best scoring effort of the season. The junior flipped in 23 points. Chuck Brown added 18 markers and veteran Lynn Barnett chipped in with 16 to lead the slaughter.

The Blue Devils were rocked back on their heels in the first quarter when Goshen vaulted to an 18-4 lead. The Gophers were on top 43-16 at halftime and 57-28 after three periods.

Western Reserve had three men hit in double figures, but they were not enough to keep the Blue Devils from going down to their seventh straight loss. Dick Engle was high point man for the losers' with 13.

Goshen improved its season record to 6-7. Western Reserve has won two games and lost 11. Goshen defeated the Blue Devils 46-43 in an earlier meeting this season.

Liverpool-Massillon Grid Game Scheduled

The East Liverpool Potters will open their 1960 football season against the Massillon Tigers, Merrell Hall, East Liverpool, athletic director, has announced.

The game will be played in Massillon on Sept. 9. Hall said East Liverpool has been guaranteed $1,500 to play at Massillon, plus 50 per cent of all tickets sold in East Liverpool.

The game figures to bring ELHS between $2,000 and $3,000. This is compared to total guarantees of $2,050 paid by opponents that East Liverpool played away in 1959.

Massillon is also reportedly lining up a home and home series with Highland Park, Texas, for 1961 and 1962. If negotiations go through, the perennial Texas state champion would play in Massillon next year and entertain the Tigers in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas in 1962.

Massillon would have to get special permission from the Ohio school board since regulations state that a team cannot travel more than 600 miles for an athletic event.

Alliance Man Bowls Perfect Game Here

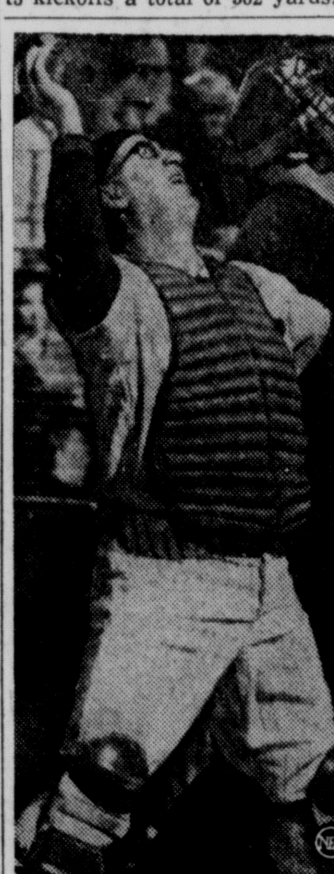

John Stivenson of 2218 S. Freedom St., Alliance, bowled a perfect game at the Saxon Lanes in Salem Saturday night.

Bowling on lane number one, Stivenson rolled a 219 first game, then put 12 straight strikes together for a perfect score of 300. His final game score of 224 gave him a three game total of 743.

Stivenson formerly bowled in leagues at Alliance, but since 1949 he has been only an "occasional" bowler. He is 45 years old.

This was the first 300 game rolled at the Saxon Lanes since the establishment opened on Jan. 15, 1950.

Almost Unchallenged In Title Race

Bucks Tighten Grip On Big Ten Lead

By The Associated Press
Ohio State's gradually improving Buckeyes take on lowly Michigan tonight in an effort to strengthen their almost unchallenged bid for the Big Ten basketball champion ship.

Following Ohio State's 111-79 triumph over Michigan State, last year's champion, folks in the Midwest are beginning to wonder if Ohio State isn't the best team in the nation.

With three sophomores in the starting lineup, including All-American candidate Jerry Lucas, the Buckeyes have pounded out a 13-2 record and are undefeated in five conference games.

Their only losses were 97-92 at Utah and 96-93 at Kentucky, both early in the season. The nationally fifth-ranked Buckeyes, however, have been improving and if they didn't hit their peak against Michigan State Saturday, conference opponents are in for serious trouble.

Ohio State poured in 49 baskets — one short of the conference record set by Indiana against Ohio State last year — and set a school scoring record.

All this after a few of the Buckeyes had illnesses during the week. Lucas, hampered by a bronchial ailment, tossed in 25 points even though he sat out 10 minutes of the game.

Coach Fred Taylor substituted freely but this didn't seem to cut down OSU efficiency.

"They've got a great ball club," said MSU coach Fordy Anderson. "They're big, they're good and they're deep. Howard Nurse comes in there and hits six of seven; Dick Furry comes in and hits three of six; Richie Hoyt comes in and hits four of five."

"I don't think even on our best day, the way they shot today, we could have matched them," added Anderson.

Ohio should have little trouble against Michigan (0-4) tonight. After that the Buckeyes have to play six of their last eight games on the road. If they don't fold completely, the Buckeyes can't help winning the title.

Minnesota (5-2) appears to have the best chance of catching OSU should the Bucks stagger. But the Gophers have a tough test tonight at Michigan State (3-3).

After defeating Wisconsin 86-72 Saturday, Gopher coach Johnny Kundla said:

"Ohio is a tremendous basketball team, probably the best in the country. And Michigan State, after that licking, is going to be mad at somebody, and we're the guys they play next."

Northwestern (3-2) hopes to keep alive its chance at Indiana (1-3) tonight. The Hoosiers downed DePaul 82-78 Saturday night.

On other action Saturday, Illinois (3-2) whipped Notre Dame 71-67.

Atwater extended Fairfield-Waterford's losing streak to nine games by handing the visiting Columbiana County quintet a 69-62 setback Saturday.

Atwater, which has won all but one of 16 contests this season, had its hands full with the spirited Rebels. Fairfield-Waterford pushed around its highly favored host in the first half. Coach Bing Newton's crew had Atwater down 24-15 after one quarter and 37-32 at halftime.

The bubble burst in the second half for Fairfield - Waterford, and the Rebels went down to their ninth straight defeat after two victories.

Jim Loudin flipped in 23 points to pace the Atwater attack. A bright stop for Fairfield-Waterford was the 19-point performance of 5-11 sophomore Wayne Blosser. Previously, Blosser had never scored more than eight points in a varsity game.

Fairfield-Waterford will get an opportunity to avenge one of its defeats when it travels to Greenford Tuesday to meet the Bobcats in an Inter-County League fray.

Springfield Falls To Salineville

Indians Rally In 2nd Half To Win 51-50

Fighting back from an 11 point deficit in the third quarter, Salineville's Indians eked out a 51-50 victory over Springfield Local of Jefferson County in a contest played Saturday at Salineville.

Springfield jumped off to a 17-12 first quarter lead and extended it to 37-28 at the half. After falling behind by two more points early in the third period, the Indians of Coach Dick Jones caught fire and wound up with a 48-44 lead at the end of the quarter.

Springfield slowed the game down in the final quarter. It worked the ball around looking for a good shot. The strategy almost paid off. Springfield outscored Salineville 6-3 in the final period but its effort fell one point shy of tying the score.

Dave Gearin, a 5-9 senior, paced the Salineville attack with 17 points. Little Sal Giannone, who has come on strong in the last three games for the Indians, hooped 14 points.

Bill Hackathorn was high point man for Springfield with 17.

The victory snapped a five game losing streak for Salineville. The Indians now have a 5-7 record for the season.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Your column embraces everything from hiccups to the cost of haircuts. Let's see you handle this one.

The American institution called "The Coffee Break" is the biggest fraud since Sam Insull. It's a colossal waste of time and I defy anyone to prove otherwise. In this day and age when offices are well lighted, well ventilated and well equipped, the coffee break is nothing but a lame excuse to gyp an employer out of a full day's work.

I've seen women in this office leave their desks at 9:40 and return at 10:10. They're off again at 2:50 and back at 3:20. This is 12 1/2 per cent of the eight-hour day, not counting lunch.

I'll bet in Russia they aren't chewing up valuable time with such nonsense. No wonder they're getting ahead of us. I dare you to print this.—OLD FASHIONED.

Dear Old: You're dead wrong on both scores. The Russian coffee breaks are mostly tea breaks but they DO have them.

Time study experts after extensive research came up with proof that productivity and efficiency are increased when there's a break in the routine. A brain can go stale just as a body can become weary. Specialists in the field of energy output introduced the coffee break as a means of getting more work out of strata.

Every strata of society has its goof-offs and chiselers. If the women in your office are taking half-hour breaks they should be told that the standard break is 15 minutes. There will always be people who abuse a good thing. It is they who should be criticized, not the system.

Trial And Error

Dear Ann: If I'm cookoo just tell me. Maybe I need a jolt.

I'm 33, have a great figure, fast line of patter, excellent job and two divorces. I met a fellow who is handsome, considerate, intelligent, has a fair job and is mad about me. The catch — he's 21. We are completely compatible and I feel a communication with Kent that did not exist with my former husbands. I'll level with you and confess they were both younger than I—one by five years, the other by seven. Ken wants to marry me. What does this look like to you?—LUCIA.

Dear Lucia: It looks like you're considering making the same mistake for the third time. Even a white rat learns after awhile. This lad enjoys doing business with an old-established firm and you are flattered by his attentions. But your record suggests you need a man 10 years older than yourself — no one 12 years younger.

This lad enjoys doing business with an old-established firm and you are flattered by his attentions. But your record suggests you need a man 10 years older than yourself — no one 12 years younger.

Undying Love

Dear Ann: You won the undying love of thousands of press photographers when you told off "Laughing Stock" in your column.

She was the active socialite and civic worker who complained because the local press photog kept catching her with her mouth open and her eyes shut. She moaned she didn't really look THAT bad but that the photographer intentionally took bad shots to ridicule her.

Every guy who is breaking his neck to take good pictures for his paper knows at least a dozen women who fit the description of "Laughing Stock" perfectly.

In behalf of all press photographers everywhere, I send you a headline-size "THANK YOU ANN LANDERS." — RON W. OF SAN BERNARDINO.

Dear Ron: And thank you for those kind words. To you and yours who labor in celluloid vineyards, a great big YOU'RE WELCOME.

Over Attentive

Dear Ann: My grandmother is 87 years old. She has been in the hospital for five weeks. Every night my mother and dad go to see her. They insist that my sister who is 15 and I (17) go with them.

My two aunts come with their husbands but they don't drag their kids along. We can't see any point in spending two hours every night in the hospital. Grandma doesn't even know where she is or who we are.

Mom says this is the least we can do for Grandma in her last days on earth. What do you think? If you say we should go we won't say another word but our school work is falling off.—DRAGGED PAIR.

Dear Dragged Pair: Under the circumstances it makes no sense whatever for you kids to spend every evening by the bedside of someone who doesn't know you're there.

If your parents feel they must go, fine, but I hope they'll permit you kids to stay home where you belong so you can do your school work.

Confidentially

TO MAD DAD: Save your pipes. Some kids have to learn the hard way. When your son learns his lesson he'll know what to tell his son — who probably won't listen to you.

The Doctor Says

By HAROLD THOMAS HYMAN, M. D.
Flu Vaccine Can Prevent Misery Later

If I were you, I'd arrange to get a shot of flu vaccine for myself and every member of my family. RIGHT NOW. It's a simple, inexpensive precaution — and the pain, discomfort, danger and loss of time it could avoid is tremendous.

There's a new vaccine which includes the pesky Asian bugs that hit us last year and the year before. And it also hits several other varieties. Health authorities estimate that the shots are "80 per cent effective."

The reason I say "right now" is this: After you get a shot it takes 15 days for you to get maximum immunity to the flu.

In other words, you aren't going to be one of those relatively safe eight-out-of-10 for a couple weeks after your shot, so why delay? It will be too late once the flu now raging in some of the big cities really gets to romping around the country.

U.S. PUBLIC HEALTH authorities have urged the shots for all persons in essential jobs. That doesn't mean that other people don't need them; it's just a way of saying that if your job is essential, you owe it to the community, not just yourself, to get immunized swiftly.

Many prudent employers have taken the precaution to have their whole staffs immunized at company expense. They figure the cost of the shots will be less than the probable loss due to absenteeism and overtime if an epidemic of flu really hits.

I wish everybody could get free shots of influenza vaccine, but for those who can't, it's still a bargain if you pay for it yourself.

"TELL US ABOUT THE FREE WORLD!"

This is a direct quote in a letter received from Romania. Yes, the people living in captive nations behind the Iron Curtain want to know about the Free World... want to know the truth. And RADIO FREE EUROPE is doing a great job in bringing the truth to them.

But RADIO FREE EUROPE needs your help to remain on the air! Your dollars are needed. Dollars that pay for transmitters, announcers and news analysts. Don't let the Reds cut off captive peoples behind the Iron Curtain from the truth. Keep the truth alive by keeping RADIO FREE EUROPE on the air!
